DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
2. Claim 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
3. The term "Higher fatty acid" in claim 15 is a relative term which renders the claim indefinite. The term "higher fatty acid" is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention. The height of the fatty acid is not shown.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claims 1-4 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Reimschuessel 4,397,979, Elgarhy 5,821,177 or Wakamura et al. 2003/0004248.

7. Reimschuessel discloses a blend of lithium metaphosphate and lithium aluminate in claim 1 and polyamide in claim 4. Elgarhy teaches polyamide, polyphosphoric acid and a metal compound in claim 1 and sodium aluminate in column 5, line 59.

Wakamura et al. recite polyamide in claim 1, organophosphites in paragraphs 0050-0054, metal salts of fatty acids in paragraphs 0062-0063 and 0066 and sodium aluminate in paragraphs 0079 and 0083. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made to select applicants' ingredients from a list of equivalents.

8. Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hackert 4,031,060.

9. Hackert reveals a process to form pigmented polyamide in claim 1, tetrasodium pyrophosphate in claim 3 and sodium aluminate in column 2, lines 65-66. Since the criticality of the order of addition has not been elucidated in the specification. Any order of addition during polymerization is obvious. The use of several equivalent dispersing agents is also obvious in order to achieve optimum pigment dispersion. The dispersion is aqueous.
